Dear Parents

I am happy to welcome you to this quarterly magazine, exclusively designed for parents of CIS. This magazine serves as an invaluable link between our institution and your homes, fostering a strong sense of community and partnership in your child's educational journey.

At CIS, we are very focused on early years development. In today's fast-paced world, education is constantly evolving to meet the demands of the 21st-century learner. It's no longer enough for our children to simply acquire knowledge; they must develop a diverse skill set that equips them for a dynamic and uncertain future. To this end, we are committed to providing a holistic education that not only imparts academic knowledge but also focuses on the overall development of your child.

The 21st-century learner is a unique blend of curiosity, creativity, critical thinking, collaboration, and adaptability. We understand that in order to nurture these qualities, we must continuously adapt our teaching methods and curriculum to meet the ever-changing demands of the world. As parents, you play a pivotal role in this process. Your active involvement and support at home complement what we do at school, creating a seamless educational experience for your child.

Child development is a multifaceted journey, and we are dedicated to addressing all its dimensions. Our curriculum emphasizes not only academic excellence but also the development of emotional intelligence, social skills, and physical well-being. We firmly believe that a well-rounded education sets the foundation for a successful and fulfilling life.

We also understand that quality education is not a short-term endeavor but a long-term commitment. CIS is dedicated to providing a stable and nurturing environment where your child can grow, learn, and flourish throughout their early childhood and beyond. We take pride in our dedicated team of educators who are committed to your child's growth and well-being. As we work together to prepare your child for the opportunities and challenges of the 21st century, I encourage you to engage with the content in this magazine, attend our workshops and seminars, and actively participate in your child's educational journey. Your partnership is invaluable, and together, we can ensure that your child receives a well-rounded, high-quality education.

Thank you for entrusting us with your child's early education. We look forward to a wonderful journey of growth, exploration, and learning together.

Happy Learning

ACTIVITY HELD

Doctors' Day

CIS believe in nurturing not only the minds but also the well-being of our little learners. In light of that, we recently celebrated Doctors' Day, a day dedicated to honoring the dedicated and compassionate individuals who play a pivotal role in safeguarding our health.

Our young ones may not fully grasp the significance of Doctors' Day, but we made sure they understand the importance of these remarkable healthcare professionals in a way that's both educational and fun.

Invited Dr. Medhavi Gautam, she share her insights about healthy and nutritional food with parents. Mothers also enjoyed participating in healthy cooking competition held at CIS.

This celebration of Doctor's Day made an essential contribution to the overall holistic development of the students and also created awareness among the children about the importance of doctors in our lives.

Elephant Day

Canvas international Pre School is excited to share the elephant-sized joy and enthusiasm that filled our canvins as we celebrated "Elephant Day." This special day brought a trunkful of learning, fun, and appreciation for these magnificent creatures.

Our young explorers embarked on a journey into the world of elephants, learning about their habits, habitats, and the importance of conservation.

Little hands got creative as they painted and decorated elephant masks, fostering fine motor skills and sparking imagination.

Children stomped and danced, mimicking the majestic movements of elephants while learning about their locomotion.

The Elephant Day celebration was an educational experience that combined fun with valuable lessons about wildlife conservation and appreciation for the natural world. We are proud of our little learners' enthusiasm and engagement throughout this special day.

ISRO Launch - Little Explorers Reach for the Stars:

Chandrayaan Activity at CIS.

We are thrilled to share an out-of-this-world experience that took place at Canvas International preschool recently - our very own Chandrayaan (Moon mission) activity! Our little explorers embarked on a cosmic adventure that combined learning with the joy of discovery.

Our creative little minds got to work crafting their own rockets using colorful paper and markers. This hands-on activity encouraged fine motor skills and creativity, allowing our children to express their unique visions of space travel.

Our Chandrayaan activity was a wonderful blend of fun, imagination, and learning about space exploration. It encouraged our preschoolers to dream big and nurtured their curiosity about the universe.

Independence Day

Independence Day at Canvas international Preschool was not only about commemorating a historic event but also about instilling a sense of pride, unity, and love for our nation in our little ones. We believe that celebrating such occasions helps them understand the significance of our shared history and the values that our country holds dear.

Children and teachers came dressed in vibrant traditional attire, showcasing the rich tapestry of Indian culture and heritage.

Canvins joyfully sang patriotic rhymes and songs, expressing their love for the country. It was heartwarming to see them unite in song and dance, celebrating the rich cultural diversity of our nation.

Grandparents day

GrandParents day celebration is a heartwarming way to acknowledge and honor the vital role grandparents play in a child's life. CIS celebrated Grand parents day ,

Children and grandparents share stories about their own childhood, family history, and personal experiences. This helps create a sense of continuity and connection across generations.

Photo sessions, were organized grandparents and children take pictures together, These pictures serve as cherished memories for the families. It allows children to express their love and gratitude while giving grandparents a sense of recognition and belonging.

Janamashtami Celebration

A Joyful Janmashtami Celebration at Canvas International PreSchool.

Our Little Canvins came to school dressed as adorable little Krishnas and Radhas, complete with peacock feathers, colorful turbans, and traditional attire. The sight of these young devotees was truly heartwarming. Janmashtami celebration in CIS not only adds a touch of cultural diversity but also helps young children understand and appreciate the rich traditions and stories from around the world. It is a fantastic opportunity to foster a sense of unity and respect for different cultures and religions. This celebration can leave lasting memories in the hearts of the children and help them appreciate the beauty of diversity and the values associated with festivals like Janmashtami.

Hindi Diwas

Hindi Diwas, is celebrated on September 14th each year, is a significant occasion in India. It commemorates the adoption of Hindi as the official language of the Indian Republic. CIS play a vital role in instilling a sense of national identity and language appreciation in young children. Celebrating Hindi Diwas in preschool can be a fun and educational experience that helps children connect with their cultural roots and develop a love for their national language.

Engaged children in language-based games and puzzles that help them learn and appreciate Hindi vocabulary and phrases in a playful manner. It not only introduces them to the Hindi language but also fosters a deeper connection with their cultural roots and the diverse tapestry of India.

Field Trip

Field trips hold great importance for preschoolers as they offer a unique and valuable learning experience. These outings provide numerous benefits for young children, enhancing their development and education in various ways. Field trips often spark curiosity and interest in various subjects, which can lead to further exploration and learning. Children may develop a passion for science, history, nature, or other subjects through these experiences.

CIS allow children to apply what they've learned in the classroom to real-world situations by organizing such trips.

Common Problems Preschoolers Face In School

As your child takes his first steps through the gates of his playschool, a million thoughts may run through your head. “Will he like school?”, “Will he make friends?”, “Will he be OK without me?” are just some of the questions you may ask yourself repeatedly.

Most playschool coordinators and teachers understand these worries and help allay the fears and doubts of both parent and the child. But, there are still some problems your child may face during his preschool years, which you will need to address.

Separation anxiety

It's normal for a child to have separation anxiety when he enters school for the first time. It's a big step that the toddler takes when he leaves the familiar, safe, and comfortable environs of his home and family, and steps into an entirely new and unfamiliar space, that is school. Quite naturally, he will feel quite intimidated by the new building, classroom, teachers, and classmates. He may feel anxious about being all alone without your protective presence, the familiar toys and spaces, and the freedom and confidence to do what he likes; while you, as a parent, in your own anxiety to see your child settle down quickly at school, may try to convince him about how nice the school is, and how he should be brave and not cry.

What parents can do: You could first show empathy by saying to the child, “I know you are afraid. It's alright to feel that way”. Fear is a big feeling for a preschooler to manage on his own. That's why he needs you to help diffuse the fear. Ask your child to tell you all the things he is afraid about. Take his fears seriously because they are real for him. When you hand him over to the teacher at school, reassure your child that you will be back to pick him up and take him home. It could help to let him take one of your belongings to school, something that reminds him of you and comforts him. Most importantly, give him enough time to settle down in the school and do not compare him with other children. Remember, anxiety is a combination of fear, worry, and nervousness. Make sure that you, as parents, first deal with your own anxiety. It's equally hard for parents to separate from their children. Else, you will pass it on to the child.

PARENT TESTIMONIAL

BRANCH

I am happy to connect with canvas, your curriculum and teaching methods which is different from other schools.

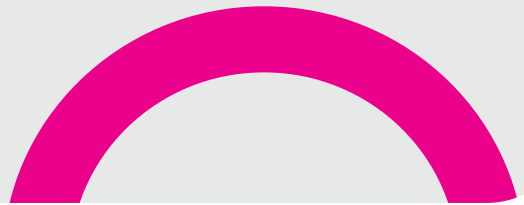

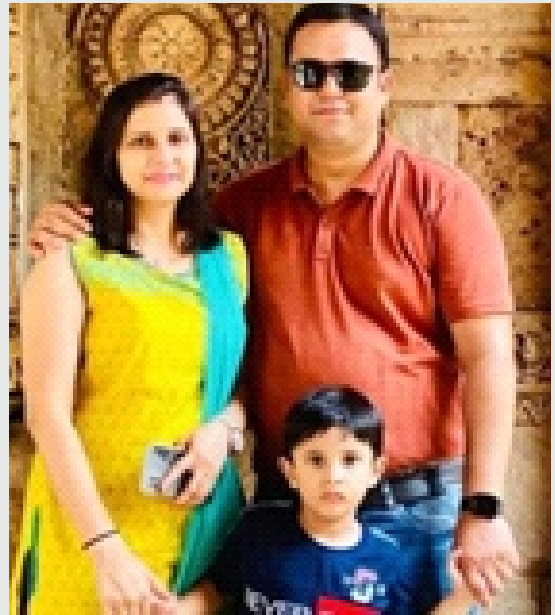

Well planned worksheets for practice makes my child think beyond prescribed textbooks.

I like to take this privilege to congratulate the Principal of the school and Teachers for its endless efforts. Teacher uses multimedia modules to teach and my child loves it. We are really feeling proud of all the teachers and the school staff.

With regards,

PARENTING TIPS

Finding joy in everyday moments

Parenting is a rewarding yet challenging journey, and every child is unique, so there is no one-size-fits-all approach. Effective Communication: Listen to your child and encourage them to express themselves. Be patient and empathetic, and try to understand their perspective.
