Dear Grand Preschool Parents and Guardians,

We are eager to begin another exciting year of learning adventures at Canvas International School! We offer you a warm welcome to our preschool family of learners. Canvas International is a school where all of our students are encouraged and supported by a staff of dynamic, compassionate, and qualified people. We are a caring community of teachers, staff, parents, and children who work together to provide a safe, enjoyable, and meaningful early childhood experience. We instil and celebrate a lifelong love of study and friendship by working together. Canvas treats its students with dignity, consistency, and encouragement. Every day, as they grow and blossom, children receive playful and developmentally appropriate learning in this friendly setting.

This coming school year will be an exciting period in your children's lives as they absorb learning, independence, and social skills like tiny sponges. In our preschool programme, your children will participate in daily, hands-on activities that will help them build academic skills while also improving their social skills, as well as centres with a curriculum that will prepare them for the next step in their education. We vow to love your children as they grow and study in a safe and supportive atmosphere at Canvas.

The faculty at Canvas International welcomes family participation and wishes to form educational connections with you. We can help each child receive a great education in a secure and healthy environment by working together.

Thank you for allowing us to be a part of your child's growth and development. Let us all come together to nurture our children's most beautiful phase!

ACTIVITY HELD

JANUARY

REPUBLIC DAY CELEBRATION

The 72nd Republic Day was celebrated with pride and reverence at Canvas International Schools. The ceremony began with the hoisting of the tricolor flag. Our little Canvins are also made aware of the cultural heritage and other aspects about India arousing a sense of pride in being a citizen of a country with a rich cultural past. They are encouraged to preserve its varied national heritage and assume a sense of social responsibility.

COMMUNITY HELPERS

“Community Helpers Day” is a wonderful way to broaden the child’s horizon and help them learn about the world beyond home—their community. It is easy to find books for this concept, and there are a number of creative activities to go with it—everything from dramatic play to field trips..

This topic is important as it brings home to children for a lot of reasons such as safety, thoughtfulness and understanding the way the world works. It teaches them to address politely to the people in our neighbourhood, mingle with them by asking his or her name and try to show them that they should feel safe and that these people take care of us.

With these objectives to be achieved, Community Helper Day was organized in Canvas International Schools. They were dressed up as nurse, sweeper, policeman, doctor, soldier, vegetable vendor farmer and teacher. They presented their views happily and told that they were proud to be dressed as community helpers and loved their job.

FEBRUARY

CULMINATION DAY

The culminating activity not just enhances and discovers the skills of the students, but it also creates the a strong bond between the student (haha). It creates camaraderie among students. It is important because in the activity you can show what are the knowledge you learned and skills that was improved and earned. Our little kiddos of Canvas International School celebrated culmination day .

MARCH

HOLI CELEBRATION

Holi is the festival of colours and is famous among people of India for the interesting rituals which includes playing and throwing splash of colours over each other, meeting friends and family and enjoying a feast of delicious delicacies prepared on this occasion. Holi marks the arrival of spring after winter. It signifies the victory of good over evil and is celebrated as a day of spreading happiness and love. Holi was celebrated at Canvas International School with great zeal and enthusiasm.

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITY

CRAFT CLASSES

Offline Teachers Training program - Teachers are a crucial and integral part of the education system. A great teacher is crucial to a student's development and growth. So, how does one become a great teacher? As teachers, we are always concerned about the education the students receive. But rather than focusing on the classroom, we should take a step forward and think that if education is going to improve, we must work on improving initial teacher training.. Teaching is an important process, but teacher is the fundamental element in this process and it is always the method which determines the output of the system.

,which help the candidates in staying updated on the latest methods and processes being followed in the classroom..

Teacher learning or training is a continuous never-ending process which promotes teacher's teaching skills, master novel knowledge; develop better or newer proficiency, which in return assists in improving student's learning. Training sessions are needed to help the teachers learn or create new teaching strategies which will bring back the interest of their students in the classrooms and encourage learning

An effective teacher training program was conducted in Canvas International School

7. Easy Ways to Be a Fantastic Parent-

Set Smart Limits

Take charge. Children crave limits, which help them understand and manage an often confusing world. Show your love by setting boundaries so your kids can explore and discover their passions safely.

Don't clip your child's wings. Your toddler's mission in life is to gain independence. So when she's developmentally capable of putting her toys away, clearing her plate from the table, and dressing herself, let her. Giving a child responsibility is good for her self-esteem (and your sanity!).

Don't try to fix everything. Give young kids a chance to find their own solutions. When you lovingly acknowledge a child's minor frustrations without immediately rushing in to save her, you teach her self-reliance and resilience.

Remember that discipline is not punishment. Enforcing limits is really about teaching kids how to behave in the world and helping them to become competent, caring, and in control.

Pick your battles. Kids can't absorb too many rules without turning off completely. Forget arguing about little stuff like fashion choices and occasional potty language. Focus on the things that really matter -- that means no hitting, rude talk, or lying.

8. What Are The Benefits Of Playing In A Natural Environment?

Outdoor play fosters children's intellectual, emotional, social and physical development. And by being outside and surrounded by nature, children experience an ever-changing and free-flowing environment that stimulates all the senses.

Intellectual Benefits

The natural world is a giant, open-ended learning laboratory. Children are innate scientists and love to experience the sights, scents, sounds, and textures of the outdoors. Interacting with natural environments allows children to learn by doing and experiment with ideas.

Emotional Benefits

Being outside feels good. Children are free to explore, move about, and make noise — all delightful forms of self-expression that are often restricted indoors. In nature, children can run, jump, hop, skip, climb, roll, and shout, which relaxes, and reduces tension, anxiety, and restlessness.

Furthermore, nature enhances a sense of peace and often brings out nurturing qualities in children. Many energetic children slow down to dig a hole in sand, watch a ladybug crawl, or spend focused time playing with a stick in a mud puddle. Several studies have found that exposure to nature can reduce symptoms of ADHD and anxiety.

Social Benefits

When children play outdoors there may be opportunities to interact with new and different playmates. In nature, children can play alone or connect with one another, learn to share, and problem solve. In the natural world, children often collaborate to make up games and rules because there are no prescribed sets of instructions. When exploring outside, school-age children may not be in close proximity to adults, which gives them time to make up their own rules and solve their own problems without inhibition.

Physical Benefits

The fresh air of the natural world is invigorating and offers endless opportunities for physical activity, which, in turn, builds strong bodies.

Outdoor play also allows a child to be more physically active than indoor play, potentially burning more calories and contributing positively to a child's overall fitness.

New-Age Inspiring Parenting Tips.

Best way to navigate parenthood.

Everyone dreams different -

"Don't put your dreams in your child's mind, because every child is born with his or her own aspirations"

This is a common mistake many parents make. A child comes with their own aspirations and hopes for the future, and as a parent, the best you can do is help them find their own niche, rather than complete an unfinished chapter in your own life
